Reservations and payment by May 20, 2008.

You will be given tokens to redeem for each meal. You will receive your tokens when you check in with the Kitchen id will be required. Please make sure you don't lose your tokens. They are the only way to receive your meal no exceptions.

Tokens will be collected at each meal.

Please tell me if you have dietary restrictions I will try to accommodate if at all possible.

All food is prepared on site except for bread and cookies. It is prepared with low sodium and little pepper. There will be condiments available to add as you please to your individual meal. I also carry sugar free syrup and other items for our diabetic partners. Please ask at the kitchen for those items.

Meals must be picked up in period attire. So that spectators don't think that just anyone can partake of the food.

You must provide your own utensils, plates and cups. They are your responsibility. There will be a location to wash your dishes but each person washes there own.

No smoking in the kitchen area.
